Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ghertner et al (6,802,084).

The Ghertner reference discloses a leak detection apparatus comprising: a detector circuit 42 to detect the flow of fluid, a timer circuit 120 (Fig. 6) operatively connected to the detector 42 which detects that the fluid flow duration is outside of a predetermined duration, and an alarm circuit 108 operatively connected to the timer circuit which sounds an alarm in response to the timer circuit detection state.

Regarding claim 5, the method of limiting fluid over use would be inherently performed during the normal use of the device.

3. Claim 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(e) as being unpatentable over Quintana et al (6,667,893).

The Quintana et al reference discloses a leak detection apparatus comprising: a detector circuit 17 to detect the flow of fluid, a timer circuit operatively connected to the detector 17 which detects that the fluid flow duration is outside of a predetermined duration, and an alarm circuit operatively connected to the timer circuit which sounds an alarm in response to the timer circuit detection state.

Regarding claims 5 and 6 the method of limiting fluid over use would be inherently performed during the normal use of the device.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kulhavy and Bootka teach a water filling system with alarm
